

Texma Video

Reference: RF00629

Specialists in industrial stitching system automation.
Texma is the only company that produces a complete range of stitching system patented for both tubular and open width knits and jersey fabrics.
Special purpose machines designed and custom engineered to meet the very specific demands of our fabric finishing customers.

Specialists in industrial stitching system automation.
Texma is the only company that produces a complete range of stitching system patented for both tubular and open width knits and jersey fabrics.
Special purpose machines designed and custom engineered to meet the very specific demands of our fabric finishing customers.

Models:

- T-DP-24 bag tacking system,international patented system TEXMA Srl, the only one without triangle and and also able to work with the wet tissue
- Preparation line for open fabric
- Preparation line for tubular fabric
- T-RT linear rails for flat seams with a minimum cut of fabric
- T-L1 Automatic sewing system to join two towels with overheads lockstitch
- T-SV-24 Unwinding system for both tubular and open fabric
- Movable carriage,on wheels,to support Juki,Marrow sewing
- Automatic unit to cut and overedge carpets on the 4 sides

